Quick update: I spoke with Nichole Rosewood at Blvd. 86 and they are sending a crew out to remove them. I reminded them that there is a fine for defacing the public property, plus it is considered a registered piece of artwork, and that they are glued on, so had better take that into consideration.

She also mentioned she had spoken with Aaron, so we are all ON IT!!!

All,

Sorry for aborted email - blame my fat fingers.

The street art box at Magnolia and Lankershim was wheatpasted overnight by somebody with ads for a handbag company, BLVD 86. Please see attached photos. They also maintain a storefront in Beverly Hills. See attached screengrab of their Facebook page w contact info.

I think somebody - my money is on the Councilman's office - should call and speak with a manager about this, and ask for the store (or its corporate parent) to pay for damages. The reason I think it would come better from the Councilman's office is, let's face it, you guys carry a lot more weight than an NC. In any event, we should move fast to hold them responsible for this.

Additionally I have opened a 311 complaint on this in the hope that BSS fines the store.
